

SCIENTIFIC SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

Dr. A. Arunachalam, Director, ICAR- Central Agroforestry Research institute, Jhansi, U.P. has performed the role of Scientific Social Responsibility at UP Govt. Auditorium in Jhansi on 7th February (Sunday), 2021. Dr A. Arunachalam was the Special Guest on the occasion. He promoted, encouraged and motivated the COVID-19 warriors (YODDHA) of Jhansi city in which Doctors, Medical workers, Police staff, Press people, Municipal corporation (Nagar Nigam) workers including safai karmi and social & NGOs workers received the certificates for their work/contribution excellence from the hands of Dr. Arunachalam, Director, ICAR-CAFRI, Jhansi.

The programme was organized by Bundelkhand Educational and Training Council, Jhansi a NGO working for the social cause. The chief guest of the programme was Shri Yashovardhan Gupta, Managing Director, Dainik Jagran (Hindi daily), Jhansi and the other special guest on the occasion was Prof Dr Arvind Kumar, Vice Chancellor, RLBCAU, Jhansi.

Dr Arunachalam appreciated the audience for their social work particularly to fight COVID-19 and also informed the audience that ICAR-CAFRI, Jhansi is also performing the duties of social responsibilities by doing the cleanliness campaign along with creating awareness about fundamental duties in the villages of Bundelkhand. He also addressed about the climate issues and the role of Krishivaniki in restoration of degraded lands.

