

Agroforestry e-Directory

ICAR-Central Agroforestry Research Institute
Jhansi, Uttar Pradesh

Preface

Agroforestry, the systematic scientific exploration of the traditional practice of growing woody perennials in the farmlands began in the late 1970s. After five decades of research, there are enough evidence to prove the multitude benefits of this land use practice, especially in the context of the climate change. The recently held 4th World Agroforestry Congress at Montpellier, France also showcased the climate change mitigation and adaptation potential of agroforestry. The beginning of agroforestry research in India started as All India Coordinated Research Project at the ICAR headquarters in 1983. Today, there is dedicated research institute to spearhead and coordinate agroforestry research in the country, the ICAR-Central Agroforestry Research Institute (ICAR-CAFRI), Jhansi. Inadvertently, the agroforestry researchers are small group of scientists in the ICAR system who are working across different institutes in the country. To bring in a network among them, ICAR-CAFRI has brought out a directory of agroforestry researchers from ICAR system in India. This directory will serve as a ready reckoner to get in touch with agroforestry researchers in the ICAR system.

This directory contains information on agroforestry discipline scientists working or had worked for ICAR system
